Declaration of Liberty & Justice for All
We the People plead Not Guilt...

'We the People' is more than just a phrase - it's the foundation from which we derive our rules of governance-namely, that the United States shall be governed for the people, by the people. Our public servants are required to take an oath swearing to support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; and bear true faith and allegiance to the same. It appears it is time to remind them about the latter.

Traffic laws, and the methods used to exercise police powers thereof have become categorically un-constitutional, and can be successfully challenged in a court of law.

The time has come to reclaim the constitution. We have the power - and the responsibility - to exercise the rights bestowed upon us as citizens of the United States, by pleading not guilty to every charge!

Article 1 of the Constitution, combined with Congress' intent in the 1966 Highway Safety Act explicitly states that transportation policy Shall be constitutional with fact-based standards to be applied uniformly across state lines to advance safety.

Our Country's laws are simple, clear, and designed to protect 'We the People' with inalienable rights. The enforcement of our current non-conforming laws is entirely dependent on the ignorance of their victims. We're here to empower you with the knowledge needed to strike down this tyranny.

MotoristsRights.com will help you fight these violations of your civil liberties. We provide examples of legal arguments, as well as the foundations of what our practices under the law should be, and examples of successful defense cases.

We cannot fight alone. In order to change the status quo, we must stand together, and you must resolve to defend your freedom, restore the Rule of Law and a government of 'We the People'.

No people will tamely surrender their Liberties, nor can any be easily subdued, when knowledge is diffused and Virtue is preserved.

Samuel Adams